JUST RESTING BETWEEN SPINS
Here we see the Misses Katherine Hamlin and Betty Battles of Philadelphia resting on their sled on the ice of the Country Club of Brookline. Soon they'll start on another spin over the glaring surface.

Robert S. Weeks, Jr., Morton Claffin and Herbert Jaques find plenty of enjoyment in a good game of hockey at the Country Club of Brookline.

HAVING AS MUCH FUN AS THE REST
Even the very young find plenty of amusement on the ice at the Country Club as Freddie Harding and Nancy McNeil are showing in this picture. They've got a sled as well as the rest.

POLICE SEIZE CARD CLUB PRIZES

Indignant women residents of Dover, Needham and Dedham, many of them gray-haired, testified themselves with difficulty in Dedham District Court today when three of their friends were arraigned as a result of a police raid on a whist party.

The principal defendant in the eyes of the Needham police was Mrs. Alice L. Heintz of Walpole street, Dover, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of promoting a lottery and gave bail of $1,000 for looking a week from today.

Mrs. Anna Sheridan of Haven street, Dover, and Louise Heintz, husband of the first defendant, pleaded not guilty to assisting in promoting a lottery, and were each held in $200.

The raid, conducted by Chief of Police Norman McKinnon and a squad of officers on the regular Thursday evening whist party at 401 Pelham street, Needham, and the subsequent court proceedings, have aroused the women of the district to expressed fury.

The disappointment of those in the courtroom was manifest when Judge Eastman continued the case, as the majority of the women hoped the matter would be thrashed out at once.

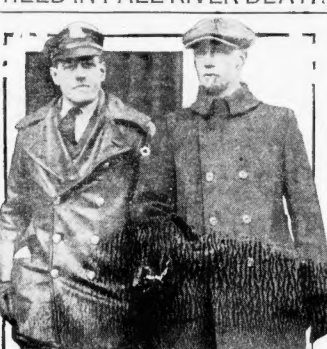

Chief McKinnon was the target for much denunciation, the consensus of opinion being that he had placed us to Page 15, Column 3.

SHE MAKES BAD MAN RUN

Miss Jennie Lombardi of No. 239 Cross street, Malden, thwarted an intruder trying to get into the home of Mrs. Mollie Cogan, next door. When Mrs. Cogan was away, Miss Lombardi, seeing the skulking shadow of the man, screamed an alarm and the prowler leaped over back yard fences and away.

WELL, HUB'S NO COLDER THAN FLORIDA!

Preceding the traditional order of seasonal events, abnormally high temperatures today suffice the high Northern section of the country, while Florida and Gulf Coast states shiver in shivering food.

The mercury at 33 above in Boston this morning at 8 o'clock exceeds the temperature at Montgomery, Ala., by two degrees, equal to those of Savannah and Charleston, S. C., and only two points below that of Pensacola, Fla.

Throughout the usual snow and frost bound areas along the Canadian border, temperatures over night have risen from 14 to 15 degrees, as an intensive storm glided eastward from Montana to Minnesota.

This warm blanket, waiting New England off from the frigid North, is predicted to travel further eastward in the coming thirty-six hours as a double carrying a threat of snow is expected to dissipate without any precipitation.

Girls for and Against Execution of Ruth

"LET HER DIE"
Greater Boston girls cannot agree on "What should be the fate of Ruth Snyder, condemned murderess?" Belle Spack of the West End would let her die.

"SHE MUST BE INSANE"
Dorine McGovern of Watertown, on the other hand, thinks Mrs. Snyder is insane and should not be put to death. If she were Governor, she'd save her.

"SHE DESERVES DEATH"
Josephine F. M. Barry, purchasing agent in the office of Mayor Walsh at Revere, believes "the sooner Mrs. Snyder and Gray die, the better society will be."

"NO SYMPATHY FOR HER"
May Malonia of South Boston, who says Gray is entitled to more sympathy than is Mrs. Snyder. She would let the woman die for her crimes.

BOSTON GIRLS CAN'T AGREE ON RUTH

Greater Boston girls diverge in their opinions as the convicted murderess awaits the hour of death for her breach against society.

MISS JOSEPHINE F. BARRY, Purchasing Agent in Revere: The sooner they execute Ruth Snyder and J. Edgar Gray the better society will be. Both are receiving what they deserve. It surprised me to read a press notice that Ruth Snyder declared she had died a thousand times since her imprisonment.

DORINE MCGOVERN, of Belmont street, Watertown: Ruth Snyder is insane and ought not to die. The girl was love mad and mental tortures rendered her insane at the time of the deed. Commits her sentence? I certainly would if I were Governor Smith. There is the child to consider also.

MISS MAY MALONIA of South Boston: She is just as guilty as Gray. I would send her to the chair and let her take her medicine. My sympathies really are with the man, in this case. I wouldn't pardon Ruth or commute her sentence to life imprisonment, either.

MISS BELLE SPACK of North Russell street: she is unfit as a mother for any child. Let her go to the chair. Her death will forget the tragedy in life's march. Let her suffer in a sane, civilized manner of her own in Revere. Should Ruth Snyder die, be imprisoned for life, pardoned or what? Write your opinion in the Boston Evening American, giving your name.

NAPHTHA BLAST IMPERILS 5 IN CAMBRIDGE

One man was seriously burned and four others escaped similar fate today when a naphtha container exploded in the workshop of the E. S. H. Cleaning and Dyeing Company, 302 West street, Cambridge.

Joseph Linton, 32 years old, of No. 29 East Lenox street, Roxbury, was burned about the hands and face. He was taken to the Cambridge City Hospital, where it was said that he would recover.

The heat of the explosion brought the fire apparatus and ladders to the scene. The fire damaged the interior of the room and several pressing and cleaning machines.

MARINE FLYING FLEET IS GOING TO NICARAGUA

When by official reports, although the exact number of men and ships has not been disclosed.

The report about the supposed departure of the Navy Department from the Navy Department, where had been received from the fleet front.

It did not detail how the information originally was obtained, although it did give some confidential details, indicating that the two marines had been captured by bandits as they sought to escape from Nicaragua and infused into service as well as instruction on point of execution.

General Lagoon said the whole story might have originated from the fact that two marines were rescued from Sandino's men. Last August after having been in the hands of the rebels for several weeks.

Marine Air Fleet to
Be Rushed to Nicaragua

Washington, Jan. 6.—A fleet of Marine Corps airplanes was being rushed into mobilization today at Quantico, Va., base, in readiness for a possible flight to Nicaragua, to take part in the war on the Sandino rebels.

This mobilization was a new proof of the fact that the United States is proceeding on a warlike basis, with the plans to capture or kill the Nicaraguan, unrepentant, for the purpose of restoring peace to the Central American nation.

At the same time today the mobilization of an additional three battalions of marines, a total of 1,000 men, was being moved at Norfolk, Va., where they will set sail for Nicaragua.

The war is apparently for a considerable time on the rebels by land and air. In the great airplanes fleet which will make the special distance flight for a few days, there will be one or more transport planes.

There are needed to carry supplies to the American forces involved at Quilich, Nicaragua, and also to bring back the wounded marines, who cannot be transported over the mountainous,
rough highways.

One marine corps transport plane
recently flew from Florida to Managua, Nicaragua.

WILL START TUESDAY.

A second, a great 10-motored transport ship, capable of carrying wounded men and supplies, will be dispatched from the Virginia, and returned to the United States.

The departure of the fleet will be ordered next week, probably Tuesday.

In addition, seven warships, two cruisers and five destroyers, are on their way to Caribbean waters.

Marines from various army units in the United States are being sent to Nicaragua, where they will be used to fight the rebels.

Neither the State Department nor the Navy Department, both of which are in close touch with Nicaraguan affairs, have been advised of the formation of the so-called republic and officials were inclined to doubt that the bandit leader would accept such a position.

Regardless, however, of any proposals which Sandino may make about governing the territory dominated by his guerrilla army, it was indicated that the United States will continue to drive him from the country so that peace may be restored once again to all parts of the little republic.

Naval officials would make no estimate of the probable length of time necessary to dislodge Sandino from his present stronghold, pointing out that this will depend largely on weather conditions and the methods of warfare adopted by Sandino.

Sandino Flays Diaz
as "Goofy's Lackey"

Managua, Jan. 6 (U.S.A.)—General Augusto C. Sandino, rebel leader of Nicaraguan nationalists, who have given battle to the United States Marines on several occasions recently, today took time out from his war with the Marines for a personal life with President Calvin Coolidge, according to reports received here.

In a proclamation issued from his stronghold in Ocuil, Nicotoma Province, Sandino declared that President Adolfo Diaz was nothing more than "a lackey for President Coolidge" and charged Mr. Coolidge with sole responsibility for war in Nicaragua.

"Today, more than ever," the proclamation stated, "we resent having traitors and lackeys of our country come in search of us. We shall give our lives, if necessary, in order that our people may enjoy true liberty, which is the right of all men."

"The only person responsible for all that is occurring now and that will occur in the future here in Nicaragua is President Calvin Coolidge, because he has obstinately persisted in maintaining in power his lackey, Adolfo Diaz, an individual who has the contempt of all good Nicaraguans."

Marine Planes Hunt for Rebels in Hill Stronghold

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 6
(A.P.)—Latest reports from Quilich by returning airplane pilots, state that American Marines who were in good condition and are continuing their position against the rebels.

Planes with bombs and machine guns were being sent daily into the state of Nueva Segovia, where the fighting is taking place, with instructions to combat the rebels.

Traffic Officer in 'Wild West' Capture of Bolting Horse

The exclusive Battle street section of Cambridge was treated to a wild west show today, staged by Traffic Officer James F. Rice in a thrilling stop of a runaway.

A horse attached to a milk wagon driven by Joseph Butler of Belmont, started on a wild run-tance just above Sparks street after shying at a piece of paper.

Officer Rice missed the bridle as the frightened animal dashed by his post. He considered a possible trick and rode after the beast, caught up with the horse at Payette street.

A flying leap from the hood to the horse's back completed the thrilling stop.

HOUSE AROUSED BY LAGUARDIA S4 STORY

Washington, Jan. 6 (A.P.)—The unadorned account Representative Laguardia of New York gave Congress of his 24 hours investigation of the Navy's rescue efforts at the last disaster has prompted probably more comment at the Capitol than any speech in the new Congress.

In the House the opinion of his colleagues can be summed up in the words of one member: "Well, you've got to give him credit for what he did."

Laguardia told how divers, among them Fred G. Michaels and Thomas

Blade, risked their lives in establishing communication with the submarine; how Michaels became entangled in the wreckage and how Blade worked for forty-five minutes with a blow-up 100 feet under the water to release him.

"Every one that has spoken to me about this matter has asked the same question: 'Why did they not pump air into that compartment and keep them men alive?'"
said the New Yorker.

"Tell you may say why did they not? The reason, as I understand it, is that the men were in an airtight compartment, full of air of normal pressure. If more air were pumped, it would soon make a high pressure chamber out of that compartment, and human life will not last long under such conditions. It would have been necessary to pump air at the rate of forty-five pounds to the inch before they could open any valve and release any excess air."

"If there were less air pressure, and a valve opened, it would immediately fill the compartment with water."

"No, gentlemen, you see, it is much easier to sit around the table and say, 'Why did they not pump air into that compartment and thus keep those men alive?' than it is to be on the job operating 100 feet below the surface of the water trying to get air into an airtight compartment."

GALE BALKED RESCUES OF THE S4 VICTIMS, SAYS NAVAL EXPERT

HEROISM OF DIVERS LAUDED AT HEARING ON SEA DRAMA

When high winds, and who was in charge of diving at the 84 tragedy scene until a few days ago, warmly defended the rescue and salvage operations of Providence. Diving went on when no men would have been allowed to go under water, Ellsberg asserted. As early as 24 hours after the 84 went to the bottom, the six lines were hooked up to the submarine and air was pumped down into the salvage tanks, the witness declared, but after an hour's diving the air began to return, indicating either that the tanks were as airtight as possible, or that the compartments were water-filled.

No life had been found and no signals had been heard from any part of the submarine excepting in the torpedo room forward.

DEFEATED BY WEATHER. When air blowing failed to enter the 84 off the bottom, it was decided to concentrate all efforts toward saving the six men forward.

The rising wind and the high rolling seas, that combined almost to take the life of Diver Michaels, defeated that man, according to Ellsberg.

Asked if any commercial divers could have done better work in saving the 84, the Boston air commander replied that there was no commercial agency in the United States or in the world equipped with facilities equal to those of the navy.

DIVERS TOOK HIGH RISKS. Then he explained that the type of equipment for submarine salvage is so special and so expensive, and that submarine sinkings are so comparatively rare that it would not be a commercial agency to outfit hundreds of thousands of dollars and let the equipment lay idle between submarine accidents.

quietly volunteered and climbed into a small boat. He carried down five lines—a special diving line, an air line for the submersible, his own line, his own air line and a lamp line, the added lines increasing his load. Ellsberg said that the spray from the lines, finally causing all five to be in a single block and threatening to break if it should be necessary to pass out more line from the paying and towing points.

Two tenders sailors at the rail were seen swimming in shallow garments and the spray from the tide faces.

FROZEN IN HIS SUE. Michaels landed in the mud and immediately went down to his waist. After struggling in vain to free him, he signaled his plight. It took 13 men to haul the diver out.

The links diver's light for freedom, Ellsberg explained, had melted. Michaels did not realize it and went up on the submarine.

Here the threatening lines that were jerking and sticking, due to the heavy sea at the surface, became fouled in wreckage and Michaels was forced down on the deck. Officers swarmed until they, too, became entangled across his back, holding him down.

The salt was filling with water when he finally managed to get out of his tank and sent a few comrades adrift. With a heave he succeeded in freeing Michaels, but not until 11:30, when he had been down more than three hours.

"When Michaels came up," Ellsberg testified, "he was unconscious and frozen stiff. We had to cut his suit to pieces to get him out. Diver Fazio and Cary worked on him in the decompression room until 1 p. m. Monday before he showed signs of life."

Ellsberg defended the 84's leaving the scene on Monday to take Michaels to Boston, declaring that to transfer him to another ship would have meant the death of a man, who himself had already faced death in an attempt to save the submarine crew. Also there could have been no diving on Monday because of the weather.

Diving was not resumed until late in the afternoon.

Ellsberg said that by the time the 84's position was changed some time had gone by. Air pumping started about 3:30, and an hour later bubbles were observed coming to the surface. Shortly after 5 o'clock the pumping had to be abandoned because there was as much air coming up as was going down.

DOWN INTO RAGING SEAS. It was concluded then, Ellsberg said, that there was no hope of life left. At 8 o'clock the Falcon came back to diving position and Captain King of the Falcon said that someone ought to go down and get the men on the torpedo compartment.

Dramatically then, Ellsberg told of the fight to save the torpedo room survivors. There was only one diver available, "Whitey" Michaels, the bravest and best of the crew, excepting Fazio, who was then in his bunk recuperating.

The wind was whistling, waves were running high and the temperature was lowering fast. But Michaels

Lloyd George for U. S. Anti-War Proposal

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 6 (U.S.).—Lloyd George today placed his stamp of approval on the proposal for a multi-lateral pact to outlaw war, as suggested by Secretary of State Kellogg.

The former premier, arriving here for a short vacation, in an exclusive interview with the International News Service, declared that Secretary Kellogg had taken an excellent step and that the nations of the world should follow him.

"I am delighted with Mr. Kellogg's proposal," said Lloyd George. "It is the hope of my heart that M. Briand accepts the proposal and that England and all other nations will follow suit."

"The problem of peace is the greatest obligation of every country. It must be solved and Mr. Kellogg has made an excellent step in the direction of solution."

Wednesday, but most of Wednesday was taken up in finding the torpedo room to get air to the men or to look lines on the 84. C. F. Fazio, who himself had already faced death in an attempt to save the submarine crew. Also there could have been no diving on Monday because of the weather.

DEATH WON IN RACE. He said it had been planned either to drill a hole in the deck over the torpedo room to get air to the men or to look lines on the 84. C. F. Fazio, who himself had already faced death in an attempt to save the submarine crew. Also there could have been no diving on Monday because of the weather.

It had also been planned to send food, clothing, air-purifying substances and flashlights in through the torpedo tubes to the men if they

Prepare to Resume Diving at S4 as Wind Abates

Providence, Jan. 6 (U.S.).—After a sudden slackening of the north wind, which had held up all salvage operations on the station and the 84, the U. S. S. Falcon, flag ship of the salvage fleet, sailed on her anchor in Providence harbor this afternoon and started out at the scene of the disaster.

With the dying wind came a heavy sea, which had been Admiral Frank H. Brandegee, directing the salvage work, to believe that the diving would be resumed for a short time before midnight.

Three divers, it was said, were prepared to descend and enter the 84's engine room as soon as weather conditions permitted.

All of the other vessels in the salvage fleet, however, remained at anchor in the inner harbor.

Body of S4 Victim to Be Sent to San Francisco

The following telegram was received today at the Chelsea Naval Hospital from the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery at Washington: "Remains of Aaron Albert Fazio, a victim of the torpedo disaster, to be sent to San Francisco, California, for burial. The body of the victim, who was killed at the time of the disaster, is being sent to San Francisco for burial. The body of the victim, who was killed at the time of the disaster, is being sent to San Francisco for burial."

JUNIOR DIVISION S. P. C. C. SCORES ENORMOUS SUCCESS WITH LOWELL THOMAS' BENEFIT LECTURE, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Adventures of Allenby and Lawrence Enthral Critical Audience

WHEN THE JUNIOR DIVISION OF THE S. P. C. C. DOES A benefit, it does it benefit superbly. With greatest ease and almost ease they put over an enormous affair last evening that should serve to keep financial machinery well oiled for many a moon to come. As benefits go they set a record. Lowell Thomas was the speaker on such fascinating topics as "Allenby" and "Lawrence" in Palestine and Arabia. And practically the entire Social Register, in gala array, was on hand to the day having dined in the auditorium and listening. And while January winds blew without, Mr. Thomas took his audience to undrained lands, over vine-clad sands and blue waters beneath cloudless skies. A pleasant winter evening's journey.

TRAVELERS WITH MR. THOMAS WERE MANY AND important. Mrs. Bernard Reid was with a group. Mrs. Nathaniel Ayer came with a large party. Mrs. Edward Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merriam Pratt, Mrs. Walter C. Baylies, Mrs. Frederick S. Mead, Mrs. E. W. Hastings, Mrs. Henry Parsons King, Mrs. Quincy Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. McNeil, Mrs. Francis Henry Appleton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bradley, Mrs. Herbert Foster Otis, Mrs. Joseph Connor and Miss Rosanna Thorndike were in the company.

OF COURSE, THE JUNIOR DIVISION'S HIGH DIRECTORS were much in evidence—Mrs. Joseph S. Seabury, in a lovely gold and black wrap, sporting an enormous black fox coat, with gown of brocade; Mrs. George Salomon West, in crimson velvet,

JACK NEWBERRY AND 'MICKEY'

The boy, who is a son of John Newberry of Beacon Hill, guards his pet zealously during these perilous "dog days."

marshalling Mr. West and the two young people, George, Jr., and Miss Dorothy West; Mrs. John W. Hollowell, in velvet beneath a wrap of caracul; and Miss Mary McCormick in brocade. Immensely delighted and beaming were each, with the benefit's end and success. And well they might be, for such a record breaker.

MRS. OTIS LOOKED VERY LOVELY WITH HER SOFTLY coiled gray hair above her luxurious emerald wrap. Miss Mary Otis, her daughter, was one of the borrowed silver staff of widely-known Junior Leaguers. Mrs. Reid's god-daughter, eryon-black-velvet wrap was very handsome. Mrs. Pratt was effective in chiffon frock and baby lamb wrap, both deep black. Mrs. Ella Seidling fertilized herself against January's inkiness with a lovely wrap of mink. So likewise did Mrs. Joseph Courtney. Mrs. McNeil was in sable, and Mrs. Ayer was becomingly wrapped in the same luxurious fur richness.

VALIANT JUNIOR LEAGUERS! THEY TURN OUT BRISK and smiling for whatever duty is stout in the way of benefits. Miss Helga Gray sold flowers. Miss Rosamond Thomas, Miss Ross Whistler, Miss Magdalena Greenstein, Miss Katharine Dalton, Miss Jane McGraw, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Helen Merriam and Miss Juliet Greenstein in merry skin the lot—were energetic and persuasive sellers of the Thomas books to benefit the Junior Division. Miss Louise Fessenden, blithe and sweet to see, was in the audience, for once not intimately concerned with direction, as she will be at the Black and White Ball soon to take its brilliant way to benefit the Infants' Hospital.

Miss Mary McCormick Soon Will Quit Quebec for Hub Opera Season

MISS HARRIET ROYCE, STATUQUELLE EFFECTIVE, WAS with a young sex group that included her fiancé, Miss Elizabeth Lyman's evocative costume of black had gleaming ornaments, immensely long earrings and an ornate antique chain. Young Mr. George Wild was with some young people, all enthralled with Thomas' Eastern journeyings. Mr. Thomas pictured in vivid colors and striking narrative the Nile country in which each Winter the Egyptian bargains migrate. At that moment they are en route to that famous river, to "go up the Nile" on their own homestead and live in luxurious days attended by a retinue. A fascinating prospect, that, but to be contemplated only by one of heavy purse.

THE HOTEL SHERATON OFFERS MR. AND MRS. CHARLES E. HODGES of North Andover pleasant town quarters for the remainder of the Winter. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges have migrated from their country place, "Edgewater Farm" out in North Andover, and will be at the Bay State road hotelery until Spring comes around again and the delights of country life take them back to North Andover. From that day to a Sheraton apartment have come the Arthur J. Knights, whose residence is in Lexington. They, too, plan to stay the Winter through.

THE FASHION OF GOING TO QUEBEC TO WELCOME "Jour de l'an" was followed by Miss Mary R. McCormick, who made the Chateau Frontenac her headquarters for the gay festivities that commenced well before Christmas and wound up New Year's with the enormous Le Carnaval Hall. Going Northward for Quebec's gay Midwinter is Miss McCormick's usual schedule. And just as regularly she comes Bostonward again for the Opera. A regular attendant, she, with orchestra reservations that have been here for these several seasons.

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT DINNERS TO PRECEDE the Assembly this evening has for hosts Major-General Clarence R. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, who have for their house guest Mrs. Edwards' sister, Mrs. Stephen Van Rensselaer Thayer of Paris and Boston. About once a year Mrs. Thayer descends her beautiful home just outside Paris, with its magnificent chateau, its conservatories and its fine old ancient park, for a round of visits here, including stays with her sister and her mother at Niagara.

Betty Alden

WALE'S DINES FARM MEN OF 50 YEARS' SERVICE

Leicester, England, Jan. 6 (A.P.)—Six farm laborers, each of whom has worked at least fifty years for his present employers, will have a special table at a dinner the Prince is giving to his farm workers on whom he has been fond.

The laborer with the longest service is James Aldin, who at 76 years is a farm boy earning 4 pence a day. At everyone he will receive a day in work. The Prince will give the guests the old English fare of roast beef, pudding and beer.

NOTRE DAME ALUMNAE DANCE MONDAY

Members of the class of 1917, St. Joseph Notre Dame Alumnæ, are giving a dance and entertainment next Monday in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Highland avenue, Roserville. The 47 members of the class have provided a program of real merit, with many surprise features for those who attend. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Mosey Pearl and his Tent Orchestra.

GOOD WILL SHIP CONGRESS IS SAILS MAR. 17 LOAFING

Following the good will trip of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who is the good will cruise of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to the West Indies and Central America, introducing the New Englander to the Latin American.

A special sailing of the flagship of the United Fruit Company's great White Fleet, the S. S. Chamorro, will make a special call to Boston to handle the party and the sailing date is March 17. A large number of representative New Englanders have already made reservations and tickets will be sold out by sailing time.

Cuba, Panama, the Canal Zone and Costa Rica will all be visited. Plans are to be combined with business. Four days will be spent in Cuba, two in Jamaica, two in Panama and the Canal Zone and two in Costa Rica. The entire trip will be twenty-two days and 5,575 nautical miles will be covered during the voyage.

Washington, Jan. 6 (U. S. N. R.)—Although facing a presidential election but ten months hence, the ever-faithful Congress was today alone today taking its own good time to grind out a legislative record. The situation was unique in congressional history for neither house nor senate leaders of either party appeared perturbed over signs indicating that the present session only goes down in history as a disappointing Congress.

The legislative record thus far has been the lightest in memory, congressional attaches, with only one bill of national interest enacted and that the conference of a media one bill.

Despite this paucity of accomplishments, the senate advanced away the weekend while the House dabbled with minor legislative matters. The Senate's record was taken on after it had "worked" but two days following a "breakdown" variation over the bill.

relationship. Canada is now our best customer, and if Mexico would substitute modern business methods for out-of-date revolution and conspiring, she might become another important business friend.

Air mail will soon reach farther than Mexico. The Associated Press says Britain's revolutionary liner R-300 will commence flights in the spring, carrying 100 passengers, at $600 each, and ten tons of mail.

What would happen if a foreign airplane, not British, would bring ten tons of TNT in place of mail to New York or San Francisco?

The cruel young kidnaper and murderer, Hickman, indicted yesterday for a second murder, hopes to escape conviction as insane.
Experts can "prove" anything. Hickman has proved beyond doubt that he is a keen, intelligent, frightfully dangerous criminal. To let him escape, on any plea would terrify millions of fathers and mothers, and multiply crime, which reads no increase in this country, by offering the additional hope of immunity.

Prison for life, with no hope of reprieve, should be the punishment for such a man, sane or insane.

New York bankers plan a loan of $40,000,000 to Rumania. France participates by sending ammunition, army equipment and other material, this country sending cash.

It will not be the cash of bankers making the loan; they will send abroad the savings of over age citizens tempted by high interest rates and the more or less certain promise to pay of a little country that tomorrow might be swallowed by Bolshevik Roussie, or torn by revolution.
Its bonds in either case would be worthless.

It was indicated yesterday that Governor Smith of New York could not feel able to interfere with the execution of Mrs. Ruth Sayder.

Lawyers speaking for the condemned woman talked about
"neurosis and psychosis" which

Governor Smith said did not interest him.

The question is not one of technicalities, but government imitating a murderer by killing more lunatically than murderers kill,
and killing a woman.

One thing is certain, if the Governor were compelled to fasten a woman in the chair, throw the switch and see her die, the switch would not be thrown.

DIO SCOTCHWOMAN MISS 10-SHILLING GIFT? OH, NO!

Aberdeen, Scotland, Jan. 6 (A.P.)— A Scotch woman made a journey costing 20 shillings in order to obtain a government pension of 10 shillings. With a satisfied air she explained, "I just wanted to make sure the money the government promised was not a gift."

TAXI DRIVER IN QUIGLEY'S AXE HOLDUP FIGHT HITS 2 MORE

Learning from a parked sedan two holdup men beat Harry St. John, a taxi driver, almost into unconsciousness early today, robbed him of $12 and a watch and then drove away.

St. John, who lives in St. Germain street, was on his way home through Bowdoin street, Fenway,
from the garage of his company,
Neser, the bridge over South street, when, later, he learned he had been stolen in the business district, was parked. The taxi driver started to walk past the parked car but as he came about the door opened and the two men jumped on him.

St. John put up a terrific battle but the pair were too much for him and he went down under their carried hands. The driver lay on his back for about 25 years old, nearly

Sargent and Whistler Art Treasures Fading Out

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Jan. 6. (AP)—Portraits and other art paintings by John Singer Sargent, one of America's greatest artists, are deteriorating so rapidly that very few of them will be shown, 100 years hence, according to Daniel Thompson, instructor at Yale School of Fine Arts. Whistler's paintings are also in danger, he said.

In an interview today in the Register, Mr. Thompson said that through careless or inconsiderate use of color, and certain paint oils in his painting method, Sargent's works are going to pieces. Whistler, he said, some traces of these paintings, great treasures of American contemporary art, are nearly worthless, and so early that it is touched by time.

Mr. Thompson cited the "Portrait of Madame X" in the Metropolitan Museum, in which he said that the colors are fading and the paint is cracking. He said that the painting is a masterpiece, but it is in danger of being lost.

An equally incident, he said, was the "Portrait of a Young Girl" by Whistler, in the Metropolitan Museum. It is a masterpiece, but it is in danger of being lost.

The phrase that fools: "Only a sore throat!"

Don't underestimate the danger of a cold or sore throat. Neglect of both leads hundreds to serious illness or death every year.

In a very small circle of friends and family you can recall the name of a person who has died of a throat ailment. It is a terrible tragedy, and it is preventable.

Sore throat is usually a warning that you are in for a cold or worse. First gargle repeatedly with Listerine and full strength and if immediate improvement is not apparent, consult your physician.

Often Listerine is a blessing. Time and time again it has checked such ailments before they grew the upper hand. It is effective because it is antiseptic; immediately attacks disease-producing germs that develop in the mouth.

During "flu" and grippe, save either, who can guard the use of Listerine. Listerine is a remedy for every day. Listerine is a remedy for every day. Listerine is a remedy for every day.

Delaney's Weight No Handicap, Says Gene

Followers of Jack Delaney, of which there still are many, have noted with some misgiving that this graceful, hard punching contender for title honors seems to be unable to grow into the heavyweight division, at least in size if not in ability. Delaney has given up much, including the light-heavyweight championship, in his attempts to reach the goal of his heart's desire, but, somehow, the necessary pounds in bone and tissue simply will not grow on his rather lean frame.

Now is your chance to buy a HIGH GRADE raccoon coat for less than the actual cost of the raw skins used in the manufacturing of the same.

HOW CAN WE DO IT?

For weeks we have been picking up for cash every choice raccoon and muskrat coat both here and in the New York market from high grade manufacturers who wanted spot cash at once. Every coat was bought at a great saving, and this saving will be passed along to each customer who might favor us with a share of their patronage. Bobo Baxter—A So Bet

By Rube Goldberg

WHEN A MAN IS GOING TO FLY TO CANADA WITH A PASSENGER IN A HOME-MADE CYCLOPLANE, HE'S NOT QUITE SURE HE'LL BE ON EARTH TO CELEBRATE HIS NEXT BIRTHDAY--SO HE JUST NATURALLY GOES TO AN INSURANCE COMPANY TO ARRANGE MATTERS. SO HE'LL HAVE SOMETHING TO LOSE BUT HIS LIFE--

MISTER BAXTER, I WOULD SUGGEST THAT YOU TAKE ONE OF OUR 34-ANNUAL-TWENTY-THREE-DOUBLE-INDemnITY-PARTICIPATING LIFE POLICIES.

IF YOU GET THE DOUGH WHEN I'M DEAD IT'S WHAT I WANT.

COURSE, WE CAN'T GIVE YOU A POLICY LESS WE FIND YOU IN PERFECT PHYSICAL CONDITION--AND WE INSERT A CLAUSE FORBIDDING YOU TO TAKE ANY UNNECESSARY PHYSICAL RISKS--

IF I'M AS HEALTHY AND CAREFUL AS YOU WANT ME TO BE I'LL LIVE FOR EVER--AND WON'T TAKE ANY POLICY!

Doubt, haired, fear—they seek the shadows dim,
Still choosing hidden ways and darkest scenes;
They watch and wait with patience, gray and grim,
To take their toll—the soul's dire subscribers.
